ANNEX A

Lancelot George Dixon

Had two brothers Vincent George and Charles Robert - see Annex F for details on this other branch of Dixons

A son of the late Lancelot George Dixon and Mary Rome he was born in Penrith, Cumberland, Eng., on February 6, 1873. He entered the marine service in 1889, as apprentice with the Mersey Line of packet ships. After serving with that company as second officer and chief officer, in 1898 he was granted his master's certificate. From that time until 1912 he served as master of a number of steamships, particularly in the Far East, Australian and Cape Horn trade. He made 62 trips around Cape Horn.

Supervisor of Services.

In 1912 he came to Canada and served as master of several ships until 1917 when he was appointed a lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, with duties as naval transport officer at Quebec and later at Ottawa, routing single ships and convoys during the submarine menace. In 1919 he was appointed to the ship construction branch of the Dominion Department of Marine. In 1923 he became acting superintendent of marine and in 1929 was permanently appointed to this position. In the amalgamation of the Department of Marine into the Department of Transport he received a promotion, being given the title of supervisor of nautical services.

He was an authority on many branches of marine matters and conducted many investigations for the department.

For nine years he was vice-president of the Gatineau County Agricultural Society (Aylmer Fair), and was also chairman of the light horse committee for the same period.

He attended Christ Church, Aylmer, of which he had been rector's warden for seven years.

The survivors are his widow, formerly Annie Winifred Hallam; three sons, Lancelot, Ottawa; Banastre (Bannie), Aylmer Road, and Vincent, Aylmer; three daughters, Mrs. L. H. Jenkins (Margaret), Ottawa; Miss Mary Dixon, at home, and Miss Winifred Dixon, nurse-in-training at the Civic Hospital, and two brothers, Charles and Vincent, residing in England.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from his home to Christ Church, Aylmer.

R. K. Smith's Tribute.

The following tribute to Captain L. G. Dixon was paid this morning by R. K. Smith, K.C., Director of Marine Services, Department of Transport, and former Deputy Minister of Marine:

"The Marine Services Division of the Department of Transport mourns the sudden passing of Captain L. G. Dixon, one of its most efficient and popular officials. His friends were legion, but those of us who worked with him and knew him best are saddened beyond expression. The work of his office brought him into constant touch with the shipping interests who frequently bore testimony to his unvarying courtesy and ability.

"Captain Dixon's whole career has been one of service and self-sacrifice and he will be missed and mourned by all who had the privilege of his acquaintance, but especially by his associates in the Marine Services Division of the Department of Transport, who extend their heartfelt sympathy to the widow and other members of the family."
